Credit unions come together for B.C. flood support

A group of credit unions in Ontario has come together quickly to support efforts to recover from devastating floods in British Columbia.

Libro Credit Union kicked off a response from seven credit unions, leading to a combined donation of $60,000 to the British Columbia Floods and Extreme Weather Appeal, launched by the Canadian Red Cross.

The credit unions joining the effort are:

- Libro Credit Union
- DUCA Credit Union
- FirstOntario Credit Union
- Kindred Credit Union
- Meridian Credit Union
- YNCU
- Northern Credit Union

Libro CEO and Head Coach Steve Bolton said: "Our hearts go out to everyone affected by the flooding, and the first instinct of everyone involved in a credit union is a desire to help, even in a small way.

"Thank you to all the Ontario credit unions stepping up to the plate for this: it's a great example of the cooperation that's second-nature to people involved in cooperative banking."

There is still time for more credit unions, and of course other organizations and individuals, to contribute to the appeal directly.
